PROFILE

I have a robust financial background that includes a deep understanding of start-up capital raise procurement, management after funding rounds have concluded, and ongoing community project growth and development post funding. I worked in traditional finance for fifteen years prior to going into the cryptocurrency space full time in the fall of 2018 as a quant trader. I have been a consultant and held the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) position of multiple successful companies. In addition to being a battle tested fundraiser, I also possess a mature process-oriented skill set that is crypto-centric in nature that allows for the discovery of new investment opportunities inside of the cryptocurrency space weeks or more in advance of others in the space. I have been a successful equity, commodity, cryptocurrency trader, market maker, and a certified hedge fund advisor for several mid and large-scale international brokerage houses as well as owning a few of my own investment firms. I am adept at raising money for critical business operations in both bull and bear market cycles through diverse capital theaters that span from the nascent to well-seasoned markets around the world. I have traded all markets referred to above. I am familiar with the oversight of governance groups such as the SEC, FINRA, and FASB along with how various offerings and compliance protocols function within their systems such as Regulation A, Regulation D filings, and IPO regulating methods. Along the journey I have become familiar with cryptocurrency mining, staking, liquidity farming, and how NFT integration works. In addition to the above I have also spent the last several years becoming a "Full Stack Developer" to enhance my existing skill set. I can now go into the financial markets and build my own algorithmic trading bots and employ the proprietary strategies that I and my teams have put into practice.
